

Doco on Speed on Tweed at Regent Cinema

A DOCUMENTARY on Murwillumbah's highly successful Speed on Tweed event last year is set to be premiered at the town's Regent Theatre this Sunday night.

Producer Brian McDuffie, whose firm Pandion Pictures shot the documentary, said two screenings were scheduled at 6pm and 8pm.

Mr Duffie, whose company is also shooting television commercials for the Murwillumbah and District Business Chamber, said copies of the film would be available for sale on the night at $24.95.

He said camera operators Magali McDuffie and Paul Armstrong had been out on the streets of Murwillumbah from the Friday night of the event on September 20 last year to the Sunday creating a documentary record.

"The result is this documentary featuring interviews with drivers, race officials, organisers and local people, as well as some spectacular track action."

The event was a "timed sprint", with a particular emphasis on historic vehicles, run on a 1.4km circuit through the streets of Murwillumbah.

It was hailed as one of the most successful events ever held in the town.

□ Also on the program is the world premiere of the extended version of the very popular Murwillumbah Swamp Beer film and award-winning short films by film makers from Byron to the border such as The Long Wet by Tristan Bancks.
